The Mattapoissett River winds down the Mattapoissett valley from Rochester dis-

of views of reflecting water mirroring the overhanging trees on its bank. Mattapoi-

GIRL SCOUTS HOLD TEA FOR MOTHERS

Mattapoisett Girl Scout Cadette Troop #49 recently held a tea for their Mothers and other children in their families at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Wilbert Bailey, Holly Lane. There was a very decorative tea table and the girls served coffee, tea and cake. Games were played with the younger set and they also had punch and cookies. The girls worked hard on this project and it really showed that scouting has many advantages as the girls were excellent hostesses. The girls were somewhat disappointed there were not more Mothers to serve!

ART CENTER TO PRESENT "TWO FOR THE SHOW"

The Marion Art Center Theater Board will present its third production of the season, "Two for the Show", May 1 and 2, 8 and 9, in its "little theater" at the corner of Main and Pleasant Streets. Curtain each evening is at 8:30.

"Two for the Show" is a general title for this unusual production which consists of two one-act plays and a folk music interlude.

Two Mattapoisett residents, Miss Bonnie Batterson and Mr. Mac Nyborg are members of the casts. Miss Batterson, a veteran of several productions in the mid-west, is making her first appearance with the Art Center Players.

She is featured in the role of sculpturist Margaret Marshall in the comedy, "Another Way Out", by Lawrence Langner.

Mr. Nyborg, last seen in the Art Center's production of "Under Milk Wood", plays a supporting role in William Saroyan's one-act drama, "Hell-o Out There", and will also serve as stage manager for "Two for the Show".

Mr. Jim Carr, a veteran of community theater groups in Springfield, Mass., Portsmouth, N. H. and Pease AFB, is directing his first program for the Marion Art Center Players. He made his first appearance with the organization as First Voice in "Under Milk Wood".

SENATOR WEEKS ENDORSES LEGISLATION TO PROTECT COASTAL WATERS & SHORELINE

Senator William D. Weeks (R-Norfolk, Plymouth), in a speech at the Harvard Business School, called for sweeping changes in laws designed to protect our natural environment.

Speaking at the school's "Environmental Teach-In", Weeks strongly endorsed legislation, presently before the Massachusetts General Court, which would protect coastal waters and the shoreline.

He called for passage of legislation which would create an ocean sanctuary adjacent to the Cape Cod National Seashore. Specifically, the bill would make mining, drilling, extraction or dumping illegal within a three mile limit of the shore.

According to Senator Weeks, another important bill provides the sum of $3,000,000.00 to acquire coastal and inland wetlands, and to develop and manage these areas for the conservation of fish and wildlife.

Senator Weeks, a candidate for Congress in the 12th District, also made reference to the monumental problem of waste disposal. He told the Harvard group that "communities should join together to combat regional problems...and waste disposal most certainly falls into this category." He added, "Site resources for sanitary land fill should be shared, as well as regional incinerators. This approach will ease the financial burden on the individual cities and towns."

In conclusion, Senator Weeks stated,
"Success in this vital area will depend on how well politicians, public administrators,
city engineers, planners, civic groups and voters work together. The pollution problem is overwhelming, but we must address ourselves to it, and we must conquer it if our nation is to survive."

CANCER CRUSADE TONIGHT IN ROCHESTER

Rochester volunteer crusaders will be among the 95,000 volunteers throughout the State seeking contributions in a one-night house-to-house canvas beginning at 6:45 tonight (April 29). As part of the educational program designed to save lives, the crusaders will also distribute leaflets listing cancer's seven warning signals. Letter to The Editor

I have just read a news item which, I think, throws light on the candidacy of Josiah Spaulding for the United States Senate.

His achievements (if any) as chairman of the Massachusetts Republican Committee could be described by that presently overworked word "mediocre".

I have wondered about the depth of his Republicanism. I feel that his candidacy
may have caused some qualified person,
having the necessary political know-how,
from becoming a candidate.

This is the news item referred to: "Boston
politicos are wondering whether Josiah Spaulding, who is seeking the Republican nomination to oppose Teddy Kennedy in the fall, is really out to dislodge Teddy from his Senate seat, or just playing games.
Not only is Spaulding running a namby-

Prophets of doom abound today. They try to degenerate life to match their own. attacked in the United States. Concern for the environment is nothing new. Hundreds of millions of people quietly go about this business daily. They plant grass. They plant trees and shrubs. They mow and clip. They cultivate flowers and sweep and clean. They pick up the papers and cans that ignorant passersby use to blaze their foul trail. Without this great overwhelming majority of people who do care how they live and do care what surrounds them, the world would be a dump. These people have not just discovered ecology but have been living and working for this cause for generations. There are some things that the individual can't do. There is the massive pollution that must be attacked on a governmental level. It will be the same, quiet people who will force this issue long after the hippies have become bored and turned to yet another protest. Dropouts will never lead the nation because they can't even manage their own simple existence. They're duds. They're losers. The only mark they leave of their passing is the obscenity floating on the breeze, the empty cans, the garbage and the waste paper.

May 2nd is clean-up day in Mattapoisett. The same people who voted to suffer the stings of the mosquito out of concern for the birds will be out picking up the unsightly flotsam left by people who think that this is a fitting monument to their passing. The town will be cleaned on May 2nd by dedicated people working together in a common cause. It will be cleaned on May 3, 4, 5, 6, 7, etc. etc. etc. by individual people working for their own satisfaction because they enjoy living in surroundings that are pleasant. Those who can't see hope for the future in that fact have to be members of the whining minority.

SCOUTS DELIVER GIFT

Mr. Joseph Mendes of Marion Road, Mattapoisett has made the Mattapoisett Historical Society a gift of the authentic cobblestones needed to pave the entrance to the Carriage Shed and a walkway. This will complete the entrance as it was visualized by the architect. Boy Scouts from Troop 53 worked on Saturday afternoon to dig up, load and deliver the stones to the Carriage Shed. Shown above, left to right, are Tom Kenney, who drove the truck loaned by the Highway Department, to transport the load; and Scouts Billy Calise, Gary Foun-

Mr. Mendes has also donated a millstone to the museum which was brought down earlier in the year by Manny Nunes, highway surveyor. This will be placed at the Baptist Street entrance along with the old stone watering trough which is now located diagonally across from the Town Hall on Main Street. The Selectmen have given permission for its relocation.

Mrs. Harry Locke, president of the Historical Society, worked with the group in digging up the old stones, loading and unloading them.

INTERNATIONAL DAY

There will be an International Day on Sunday, May 3rd, at Old Hammondtown School from 2 to 4 P.M., held by the Girl Scouts of Mattapoisett. The theme this year will be "Girl Scouts Together". Families and the public are invited.

The men in uniform enjoy delicious goodies that are baked at home. Before the club disbands for the summer this community service could offer a new dimension in activity and program innovation. Call the Y for details of plans.

The Next-to-New Show celebrates its 5th anniversary May 6, with an open house from 10 to 4:30 and coffee served all day. The public is invited to attend and browse around. Mrs. Vance L. Eckersley, chairman of the Board of Directors of the Shop, will speak at a luncheon at 12:15, giving the history of the Shop's organization and progress.

It was largely under Mrs. Eckersley's leadership that the shop was organized five years ago to add to the income of the Y for general budget purposes. Under her direction the Shop has shown steady progress in serving the community and in profits financially. Special recognition is due Miss Catherine H. Jordan, chairman of sales, who has been with the Shop most of the time.

Unwind! It's Spring!

Sick and tired of yelling and protesting while trying to do your own "thing"? Fatigated after the annual battle with winter,
climaxed by a final duel with income taxes?
Do you yearn for the simple life?

How can this be? You're living in the most progressive, highly sophisticated country in the world. You have everything
... emotional stress, worrying about the environment in which you live ... tension,
regarding your job and your health ...
financial worry about your children's education. You may over-indulge in food and drink and exist in crowded, over-heated homes and offices and you're constantly uptight about what you're doing wrong.
Sometimes life just is not all that simple.

The Massachusetts Department of Public Health, at the risk of sounding a bit facetious, suggests that it's springtime and time to put aside feelings of depression that haunt us about this time of year and are a result of the daily nitty gritty business of living.

Your first stirring of springtime might well be in the direction of your physician's office. Get that reassurance you need that you really are in good physical condition.

The yearly physical examination does wonders for peace of mind as well as your health. Fear of receiving bad news is usually unfounded. Think positively and remember if your doctor does discover signs or symptoms of disease, it is better to know now than later. Early diagnosis and treatment by a competent physician often takes care of the problem.

Springtime also presents the opportunity of getting outdoors...time for gardening and cleanup. The idea here is not to make a chore of these things. Instead enjoy the touch of the good earth and the satisfaction of getting things back in order. This does not mean forcing yourself into huge, tiring projects. Rake a patch of lawn, then stand back awhile and watch the grass grow.

Springtime is a time for plain, old-fashioned walking. A stroll gives you a chance to think. As the road winds, your nerves unwind. The fresh air clears fuzzy cob-country. Your state of mind often determines your state of health ... think healthy.
